BLESSED THE CORNER-STONE

New Parish Hall to Be Erected by Trinity Church.

MARKED BY RELIGIOUS SERVICE

Clergymen from Other Episcopal Churches Attend-Rev. Dr. Addison Used the Trowel. Rev. Gilbert F. Williams Made a Forcible and Eloquent Congratulatory Address.

The crowning point of many years of the ost successful church work by the parisheither double or single ioners of the Trinkty Protestant Episcopal church was signalized vesterday evening breasted, and they'll FIT, the laving of the corner-stone of a new parish hall at the corner of Third street and Indiana avenue, immediately adjoining the church There was not an unusually large number of church people at the exercises, but the programme was carried out with an impressiveness characteristic of the event. Promptly at 6 o'clock the procession of church digniupon the large frame platform erected directly over the corner-stone. The clergymen upon the stage were:

Rev. Dr. Thomas G. Addison, rector of Trinity church; Rev. Dr. Thomas S. Childs, archdencon of Trinity church; Rev. Dr. Gilbert F. Williams, rector of Christ church. Southeast Washington; Rev. Dr. A. R. Stuart, Christ church, Georgetown; Rev. Dr. James A. Buck, Rock Creek church: Rev. C. E. Buck, St. John's Church, Georgetown; Rev. T. O. Tongue, Grae church, South Washington; Rev. Mr. Johnson and Rev. Dr. James T. Trimide.

After the singing of the hymn "O, Lord of Hosts" the Apostles' Creed was read by Rev. Dr. Addison. The repenting of the Lord's Prayer and collects followed. CONTENTS OF THE STONE.

The senior warden of the church, Mr. T. O. Ebaugh, read the list of articles which were just within the stone. There were a copy of the Bible, a prayer book and hymnal, copy of the Bible, a prayer book and hymnal, a list of the names of the rector and minster of the parish, its officers, and vestry, lists of officers and members of the Benefiledent Society, the Doreas Society, with a history of its connection with the parish hall, St. Mark's Friendly League, St. Andrew's Brotherhood, Trinity Parish Sunday School, the names of the parish hall building committee, coins of the United States of the current year, programme of services of the laying of the cornerstone, and the following periodicals: "Living Church," "Southern Churchman," The Churchman," and copies of "St. Andrew's Cross," The Times, and other local papers.

When the announcement had been made Dr. Addison performed the office of laying the stone. As it was swung into position the congregation repeated: "In the name of the Father, and of the Holy Ghost, Amen. We lay this corner-stone of the Parish hall of Trinity cluster for the praise and giory of God—and for His work and redemption means men—Amen."

God—and for His work and redemption among men—Amen."

The address by Rev. Gilbert F. Williams then followed. Dr. Williams made a forcible and fluent congratulatory address in commenting upon the work before the Parish hall. In the course of his remarks be said:

"The discoveries of modern science, it is ciaimed, have made it necessary to modify the fundamental dostrines of Christianity, and modern religious thought seemed in some quarters prepared to go so far as not only to modify, but really to surrender distinctive and fundamental truth.

"Evolution would destroy the divine impartation of the spiritual faculty to man and contradict the Bible statement that man is a special creation of God, with the neshama of life breathed into him by his Maker. This practically denies the fall of man, and with the dealial of this all the deep meaning of the redemption is to be explained away or surrendered. Friends let us cling to the great.

the centar of this air the deep meaning of the redemption is to be explained away or sur-rendered. Friends, let us cling to the great traditional dectrines which have been and are at once so blessed and so operative in Christian life and practice.

REV. DE. WILLIAMS' ADDRESS. " "You are to be congratulated, members of Trinity parish, on the possession of an improved Sunday-school building for the Chris tian nurture and instruction of your youth. In these days, when the great value of city property deprives houses of yards, the chil-dren are being driven to the street for play and recreation. This increases the danger to their religious characters and makes the work of church care and culture all the more needed and all the more responsible. "What we are to teach our children to-day

What we are to teach our children to-day is not the facts of Jewish history, not how many chapters, there are in the Bible and how many in this book or that epistle of the sacred volume, nor which is the middle verse and which the shortest, but we do need to teach them the great and fundamental veriteach them the great and fundamental verities of religion; the origin of man, the fall of man, the future of man, of the incarnation; atonement, and redemption; to teach them to know the living gerson of Christ the Son of God. Teach them to know God himself, His will, and how to please Him. To teach them to fear God. If this new Sunday-school building shall be used to thus train up the youth of the Church it will be a blessing indeed.

Convention it to the present of the meanle deed.

Commending it to the prayers of the people of the parish, Archdeacon Williams concluded his address with words of congratulation to Trinith parish on its prospects and indications of the parish to the prospects and indications.

Trinith parish on its prospects and indications of activities.

At the conclusion of the hymn "The Church's One Foundation Is Jesus Christ, Her Lord," sung by the choir, the audience was dismissed by benediction from Rev. Dr. J. A. Buck, of Rock Creek church.

The choir which rendered the music is composed of Misses Marie Carter. Billie Halley, Emily Ballman, Messrs. A. H. Bitter, E. F. Frost, Dr. E. A. Spellman, Mr. Lane, and D. W. Middleton, director.

MRS. BURTON'S CLAIM.

Wants to Recover $1,000 Which She Says Was Wrongfully Taken.

Mrs. Enlu W. Burton, wife of the Rev. J. S. Burton, yesterday filed a claim in the orphans' court against the estate of Frank M. Williams to recover the sum of $1,000, the amount of Williams' life insurance policy.

The petitioner states Williams lived at her house for seven years, and gave her a policy on his life for $1,000 in recognition of the many kind asts she had done him. Williams was killed in the old Ford's theater disaster was killed in the old Ford's theater disaster in June, 1893.

On June 21, 1893, Lyman A. Williams, a brother of the deceased, took out letters of administration upon the estate of his deceased brother. He came to the potitioner and asked her to 1st him have the insurance policy, stating that he would draw the money thereon and deliver it to her. On July 18, 1893, he drew the money, but up to the present time he has only given her $200, which amount he sent her by letter from East Middletown, Wis, The balance of $800 he claims to have converted is transferred to the estate of his deceased brother.

She further represents that in the latter part of May, 1893, she loaned Frank M. Williams $100, which was never paid back by him.

Firman Housel supports the claim of Mrs. Burton in an affidavit, in which he states that in December, 1891 he saw Frank M. Williams hand Mrs. Burton the policy upon his own life in the Etna Life Insurance Company of Hartford for the sum of $1,000, and heard him say that he gave it to Mrs. Burton as a Christmas present. He also confirms Mrs. Burton's statement as to the loan of $100 to Williams.

UNIVERSITY EXTENSION. lity of the Introduction of the Sys rem Into Washington.

William Chauncy Langdon, Ir., M. A., a representative of the American Society for the Extension of University Teaching, has for some time past been investigating the feasibility of introducing the system into this city. The movement is intended to do for persons unable to go to a college what the universities do for their regular students. The busy person of either sex, and of any class or occupation, is enabled to carry on his or her occupation, to some extent, in the few hours available during the week and at very small expense, but with the essential advantage of the guidance of university trained men.

The university extension lecture course consists of six weekly or fortnightly meetings, and of class courses of ten weekly meetings. The usual expense to the individual student varies from one to two dollars per course, according to the number of members in the "center," as the organized audience is called, and to the amount of the traveling expenses, if any, of the lectures.

The work was started in England in 1892 by the University of Cambridge. It is now vigorously carried on by the Universities of Cambridge and Oxford and by the London University Extension Society. In the past year 400 centers brought edurational advantages to 6,000 busy people. In this country, during its short life of only four years, the University Extension has also been very successful. In the first season over forty courses of lectures were delivered to 50,000 people in Philadelphia alone, and in the short time from the initiation of the work to 1894 126 centers have been organized by the American society.

"The American Society, encouraged by its "The American Society, encouraged by its centers have been organized by the American society.

"The American Society, encouraged by its past great success," said Mr. Lengdon to a Times representative, "now wishes to ascertain whether the time has not come when it will be justified in spreading its work to other large cities, and ac ordingly I have been looking over the ground here in Washington.

"I go to Philadelphia within a few days, and my report to the society will on the whole be decidedly favorable. Whether the executive committee will decide to send some one here to organize centers and prepare the work for next Fall, I cannot say, but I feel very sanguine of the ultimate success of the extension in this city, if once started."

DOCTOR HELMUTH ON EDGE

Mike Daly's Horse Showed a Remarkable Reversal of Public Porm.

NOT A FIRST CHOICE SCORED

started Dr. Helmuth at the Island track ninth essay, and when the doctor galloped field there were many expressions of sur-prise at such a wonderful change of form.

prise at such a wonderful change of form. It was only a few weeks ago that G. C. Gray was ruled off for winning with Samaritan, and if the judges are consistent they should give the same dose to Mike Daly.

The reversal of form was made all the more significant from the fact that the owner is reported to have put a good sized bet down on Heimuth at long odds. It's a fact that the opening price of 20 to 1 was cut down to 3 to 1 and the home closed a second choics. Heimuth won by a narrow margin from Radiant, another horse well backed, while Martel, the favorite, was never in the hunt.

The best finish of the day was that in the fourth event between Grand Prix and Centre Fire, the latter closing first choice. Centre Fire looked all over a winner until the turn for home, when Grand Prix got up and the pair fought it out to the wire, Grand Prix being given the decision by a head. It required the official placing to decide, so close was the finish.

AGAINST THE EMPLOYES.

Adverse Decision in the Printers' Claim for Pay for Leaves of Absence.

Acting First Comptroller C. M. Force, of the Treasury, has given a decision that the printers recently discharged at the Government Printing Office are entitled to leave erament Printing Office are entitled to leave of absence pay for 1894 only, and not for prior years, under the act for their relief approved June 19, 1894.

Mr. Benediet had made out the vouchers, but when his attention was called to the wording of the bill he waited for the opinion of the First Comptroller. Mr. Benediet is out of town, but is expected back the first of next week, when new vouchers will be made out and the men paid as soon as possible.

The committee has no ill feeling against Mr. Benediet, as they think he has acted very fairly, and believe the Comptroller's decision is based on a technicality, because the appropriation of $65,000 was to pay them all that was due them.

That portion of the bill upon which the employes based their claim reads as follows:

To enable the Public Printer to pay to the employes bused their claim reads as follows:

To enable the Public Printer to pay to the employes heretofore or now employed in the Government Printing Office since July 1, 1883, such sums as may be due them for leaves of absence, notwithstanding the fact that thirty days leave of absence, with pay, had been granted to such persons in said fiscal year on account of service rendered in the preceding fiscal Year, and also to pay all employes of the said office any leave of absence which they may have failed to obtain from the lack of necessary appropriations, or other cause, 465,000, or so much thereof as may be necessary.

WORKINGMEN SYMPATHIZE, lutions on the Strike Adopted by the Local Federation of Labor. At a well attended meeting of the Federa troubles were freely discussed. The stand taken by the Federation is fully defined in the following resolutions, which were unani-mously adopted:

following resolutions, which were unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That the thanks of the Federation of Labor be tendered to Senator James H. Kyle for his services in introducing in the Senate and promoting the enactment of the bill making the first Monday in September, commonly called Labor Day, a legal holiday.

Resolved, That to this Federation of Labor belongs the credit of moving for this legislation, and to the chairman of the legislative commitmities of this body belongs the credit of having prepared the bill, secured its introduction and urged action thereon until it became a law.

Resolved, That these resolutions be entered in full on the records of the Federation of Labor, to preserve the facts in case of future dispute as to the origin of this law.

The legislative committee also reported the signing by the President of the bill making Labor Day a legal holiday. After the report was made the following resolution was adopted:

Whereas the employes of the A. R. U. are now engaged in a struggle to maintain the right of the American workmen to enforce a demand for a wage rate which will maintain them in a condition of respectability; and from the narrow field of Pullman's works to the broader field of the great railway systems of the West, where the issue is plainly joined for the emancipation of labor from corporate tyranny. Therefore resolved, That we extend to the A. R. U. our sympathy and wish them complete success in their efforts. While we regret the stoppage of United States mails, the blockade of traffic, the invoking of United States judicial authority, and the assistance of United States troops, these incidents of this struggie bring forcibly to our attention the question of the control of these great necessary arteries of trade by the government. Thus would be avoided those conflicts between labor on corporate power, which not only results in great financial loss and trade demoralization, but tends to increase the mutual ill-feeling and antagonism which characterizes the relation between capital and, abor, and which would not exist in this case if these railroads were controlled by the people and for the people.

Whereas the contest having been transferred from the narrow field of Pullman's works to the broader field of the great railway systems of the West, where the issue is plainly joined for the

Resolutions of thanks were also tendered to the Hon, Julius Goldzier for his jr mpt action in coming to the rescue of the laboring men of this District by demanding an investigation as to the earlion of the Commissioners in reducing the nay of the mean free at 18 and 18

tigation as to the action of the Co ers in reducing the pay of the men from $1.50 to $1 per day.

HERE'S A HOW-DE-DO.

Congress Extends Appropriations, but Notwithstanding the passage of the regula resolution extending appropriations for thirty days in all government offices, the members of the Appropriations Committee learned yesterday that in certain departments of the government work is at a standstill. This is true, ernment work is at a standstill. This is true, more especially in the case of work on public buildings and at navy yards.

Mr. Holman said yesterday that while the resolution applied to all regular departmental work, officers in charge night hesitate to continue extraordinary work, although already in progress. Chalrman Sayers, of the House Appropriations Committee, stated yesterday that the resolution was prepared at the Treasury Department, and had been framed to cover all government work, including building, repairing, etc., and he believed it was broad enough to allow that work. The resolution is the same as that passed two years ago, and then there was no stoppage in any department of the government.

Liquor License Opinion.

The Attorney for the District was recently asked for an opinion by the Commissioners on the question whether in the case of a govon the question whether in the case of a gov-ernment reservation intervening between two squares, in one of which a saloon is proposed to be located, is the owner required to present the written permission of real estate owners and residents on the south side of the square beyond the reservation. The Attorney yearer-day rendered an opinion that the applicant for a liquor license under the conditions stated is not required to have the signatures of those persons.

For New York's New Bridge. New York; July 3.—Preliminary work on the New York and New Jersey bridge was done to-day by a party of engineers and surveyors on board the tag Reba. The party is hunting for a good position for the proposed bridge. Holes are to be drilled in the river bottom until soil of a proper resisting quality is found, and this work will be continued until a good site is found. Getting a Hold Upon Anarchists.

SUIT TO RECOVER TITLE. Amanda Morgan Files a Bill Against Her Deceased Husband's Children.

James L. Morgan, Ward Morgan, jr., and Elizabeth L. Bock. The suit is to recover rights in house No. 705 East Capitol street, valued at $7,000.

The petitioner sets forth that Amanda Morgan is the widow of Ward Morgan, and the defendants are his children. Ward Morgan left a will, which purported to dispose of his real estate as well as his per onal property, but the will was attested by only two subscribing witnesses, and was, therefore, inoperative as to real estate in the District of Columbia, and the will was purported to devise the premises to James L. Morgan, Ward Morgan, jr., and Elizabeth L. Beek.

On June 14, 1894, the complainants signed and acknowledged a writing in Ignorance of its contents and upon false representations made to them by James L. Morgan and James H. Beck. She claims that they were aware of the invalidity of the will and devised a scheme to induce these complainants to sign their rights away. Elizabeth L. Beck. The suit is to recover
